The following values are the core of the Division of Developmental Disabilities County Guidelines and will be used in supporting individuals with developmental disabilities in Kitsap County:

Power and Choice - Making our own choices and directing our own lives;

Relationships - Having people in our lives whom we love and care about and who love and care about us;

Status/Contribution - Feeling good about ourselves and having others recognize us for what we contribute to others and our community;

Integration - Being a part of our community, through active involvement. This means doing things we enjoy as well as new and interesting things;

Competence - Learning to do things on our own or be supported to do things for ourselves; and

Health and Safety - Feeling safe and secure, and being healthy.

The importance of these basic benefits of community life is not unique to people with developmental disabilities, they are important to all of us in all phases of our lives.

Pathway to Employment:

The “pathway to employment” is the process by which an individual pursues competitive employment. The pathway to employment for each person may vary in time, activities and supports necessary to achieve their personal employment goals. These services reflect the core values stated in the County Guidelines.

School-to-Work Transition:

Transition services prepare young adults exiting the public school system to secure meaningful work. Services assist students and their family in building a bridge from high school to adult employment programs. Support is provided to coordinate funding between the Division of Developmental Disabilities and the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Employment Programs

Individual Supported Employment:

Services are part of an individual’s pathway to employment. These are placement and follow-up services necessary to help persons with developmental disabilities obtain and continue integrated, living wage employment in the community, in business or industry. This service may include creating work opportunities, support to the supervisors and/or peer workers to enable them to support the person on the job, on-the-job training, and modification of work site or tasks.

Group Supported Employment:

Services are part of an individual’s pathway to employment. These are supervised employment and training opportunities in regular business and industry settings leading to an individual being able to secure gainful employment earning a living wage. Group Supported Employment is located in an integrated community business/industry employing groups of no more than eight workers with developmental disabilities.

Person to Person:

Services are part of an individual's pathway to employment. A combination of services and supports may be needed to assist people to develop and implement self directed services, develop person centered employment plans, volunteer in the community and obtain generic community resources needed to achieve employment.

Community Access:

Services that assist people with developmental disabilities who are 62 and older who have retired and choose not to work. Services will assist individuals to participate in activities, events and organizations in the community in ways similar to others of retirement age.

Available only by Exception to Policy through the Division of Developmental Disabilities

Prevocational Services/Specialized Industries:

Services are part of an individual's pathway to employment. These are sheltered employment and training opportunities leading to an individual being able to secure gainful employment in the community.
