

What is an Advance Directive

An advance directive is a legally enforceable document that allows a person to specify what treatment he/she wishes to receive, or not receive, in the event that he/she later becomes unable to make treatment decisions.

Many people with mental illness are highly capable individuals who experience times when their decision making ability breaks down. It is advance planning that allows them to maintain control of their lives during these episodes of illness and to avoid mental health crises altogether. An Advance Directive offers this opportunity for planning.

Benefits of Advance Directives

There are many benefits of developing and utilizing an Advance Directive. An Advance Directive:

- Preserves the dignity and self-determination of individuals with mental illness.
- Provides an opportunity for mental health consumers to voice their desires and take active responsibility for their treatment.
- Promotes a cooperative working relationship between mental health consumers and providers.
- Allows family and friends to better support a mental health consumer in crisis.
- Encourages individualized care in which a consumer can specify:
 1. Types of medications that are helpful or harmful
 2. Who should be notified or allowed to visit if a person is hospitalized
 3. What arrangements need to be made to care for children or pets
 4. What type of treatment has been helpful in the past
 5. Many other things

How Do I Put Together an Advance Directive

To develop your individual Advance Directive:

- Read the law on line at <http://www.leg.wa.gov>. Follow the links to Laws & Agency Rules. Look under the Revised Code of Washington for RCW 71.32.
- Talk with your case manager, therapist or psychiatrist
- Call your Bridges Mental Health Ombuds Service: 1-888-377-8174
- Contact the Peninsula Regional Support Network:

614 Division Street MS-23
Port Orchard, WA 98366-4676
(360) 337-4604 or
1-800-525-5637
- Call the Division of Behavioral Health and Recovery Office of Consumer Affairs: (360) 725-1353

Complaints related to following directives for psychiatric care may be filed with the compliance section of the Division's Compliance Officer : (360) 725-1039.
