PERSONAL EXPERIENCE REGARDING TITLE 11 ISSUES

I am the parent and Legal Guardian of an adult daughter who has severe physical and developmental disabilities and I have a close relative with advanced Alzheimer's. As such, I am familiar with the demands and rewards of caring for and supporting a person with disabilities. Also, I am aware of local resources, both private and public, that provide residential, recreational, educational, vocational, health and personal-care assistance.

I have advocated for children and adults with special needs by helping establish Extended School Year education (summer school); organizing "Walk in Another's Shoes" workshops for elementary students to increase knowledge and understanding of disabilities; participating in Bainbridge Housing & Human Resources Community Assessment regarding day activities for adults with disabilities; supporting Bainbridge Island Special Needs Foundation & Stephens House; and generally encouraging community efforts that welcome and support the elderly and disabled.
