The Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) provides that an employer may require an employee seeking FMLA protections because of a need for leave due to a serious health condition to submit a medical certification issued by the employee's health care provider. 29 U.S.C. §§ 2613, 2614(c)(3); 29 C.F.R. § 825.305. The employer must give the employee at least 15 calendar days to provide the certification. If the employee fails to provide complete and sufficient medical certification, his or her FMLA leave request may be denied. 29 C.F.R. § 825.313. Information about the FMLA may be found on the WHD website at www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/fmla.

SECTION I – EMPLOYER

Either the employee or the employer may complete Section I. While use of this form is optional, this form asks the health care provider for the information necessary for a complete and sufficient medical certification, which is set out at 29 C.F.R. § 825.306. You may not ask the employee to provide more information than allowed under the FMLA regulations, 29 C.F.R. §§ 825.306-825.308. Additionally, you may not request a certification for FMLA leave to bond with a healthy newborn child or a child placed for adoption or foster care.

Employers must generally maintain records and documents relating to medical information, medical certifications, recertifications, or medical histories of employees created for FMLA purposes as confidential medical records in separate files/records from the usual personnel files and in accordance with 29 C.F.R. § 1630.14(c)(1), if the Americans with Disabilities Act applies, and in accordance with 29 C.F.R. § 1635.9, if the Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act applies.

For FMLA purposes, a "serious health condition" means an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition that involves inpatient care or continuing treatment by a health care provider. For more information about the definitions of a serious health condition under the FMLA, see the chart on page 4.

You may, but are not required to, provide other appropriate medical facts including symptoms, diagnosis, or any regimen of continuing treatment such as the use of specialized equipment. Please note that some state or local laws may not allow disclosure of private medical information about the patient's serious health condition, such as providing the diagnosis and/or course of treatment.

Sick Leave

You may elect to use accrued sick leave. Exhaustion of all other County leave accruals (except sick leave) is required before entering an "unpaid" status.

Paid Family Medical Leave

Paid Family and Medical Leave (PFML) is a benefit administered by the Washington State Employment Security Department (ESD). It provides partial wage replacement for eligible employees approved for family and/or medical leave. Apply at www.paidleave.wa.gov

Employees still have the right to elect to use paid accruals instead of receiving partial income replacement from the Employment Security Department (PFML). Kitsap County does not allow an employee to supplement PFML with their paid County accruals in order to achieve 100% salary replacement. You can however, use your paid County accruals intermittently with PFML.

If you do not wish to use accrued sick leave, please provide timely notice to your supervisor and timekeeper.

| BENEFITS |

Should you go into a Leave Without Pay status (LWOP), the County is responsible for paying its portion of insurance premiums for coverage under FMLA/PFML. You will be responsible for submitting payment for your portion of the premium. Your healthcare benefits will continue for any month that you remain in a paid status through the county. For example, you can supplement 1 day of your County's personal time balance each month while absent under PFML. This day of leave within the county system will cover your benefit deductions and earn that month's time accrual. Human Resources can help you determine whether you will be eligible for healthcare benefits during any or all of your PFML leave.
