

Washington State
Liquor and Cannabis Board

WARNING

Severe lung disease, including deaths, have been linked to vapor products.

Most patients with severe lung disease have reported a history of using vapor products containing THC.

Federal and state public health investigations are ongoing.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommends that you consider not using vapor products.